

Stopping XM Instant Traffic & Weather only hurts consumers. If members of the NAB feel threatened by the growth and popularity of satellite radio, the local stations should look to modify their business model to compete with the satellite radio providers, not lobby to the FCC to restrict the broadcasting rights of the satellite radio providers who are offering a more diverse and higher quality product than local radio stations.